CAVALRY RUSHES THROUGH GAP IN LINE AT FRESNOY

British Smash Hole In Defense East of Saint Quentin.

PERFECT CAVALRY GROUND TO EAST FAVORS ALLIES

Desperate Fighting Marks Success and Hun Losses Are Heavy.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

With the British Army in the St. Quentin Sector, Thursday, Oct. 3—British forces broke through the entire Hindenburg defense system in the neighborhood of Fresnoy. As soon as the break had been made cavalry forces swept through, being followed closely by "Whippet" tanks and armored cars.

According to reports which are considered reliable, the village of Fresnoy was taken soon afterward.

Allied airplanes which have been flying low over the country to the rear of the Hindenburg line report that there are only one or two thin lines held and hurriedly built trench lines in front of the advancing British.

This is a perfect cavalry country, and with this force fresh and the entire line of the entire German positions north and south of St. Quentin are gravely menaced.

After the cavalry and tanks had dashed into the open country behind the Hindenburg line, infantry and masses of machine gunners poured through the break. This force is taking positions and the Germans who have held their lines in the defensive system are in danger of being cut off.

The enemy appears to be in full flight north of the break in the line. Allied patrols have penetrated further into Cambrai, from which the Germans seem to be withdrawing.

There was fighting of the most desperate character when the last line of the system was smashed. Fresh troops which had not been in the earlier fighting here were put into the battle. From the German side, a strong enemy position was taken by storm.

An immense number of Germans were killed during the fight. Many trenches were turned into shambles in less time than it takes to tell it.

During the afternoon the Germans delivered a terrific counter-attack against Gouy and Le Catelet. Unchecked reports say that they gained some ground, but the British and French forces were able to hold their positions.

Prisoners from ten German divisions were taken today. Regiments which came into the line from Flanders and Verdun had been identified.

Last available air reports are to the effect that the advancing British troops are 6,000 yards beyond the line.

Sergeant Thomas J. Abbott, was not killed while on duty with his tank, but his death resulted from an air raid, according to reports received here. The bomb dropped during an air raid, according to reports received here. The bomb dropped during an air raid, according to reports received here.

A personal letter was written to Mrs. Abbott, by Captain Ralph del Clarke, on September 28, telling her of the death of her husband. Captain del Clarke said: "My dear Mrs. Abbott: It is with the deepest sorrow and regret I extend to you the sincere sympathy of myself and all the officers and men of the company on the death of your husband."

"Sergeant Abbott had been in my company since its organization in 1917. I had learned to love and respect him as a soldier and as a personal friend, and depended upon him as an efficient and trustworthy non-commissioned officer. He is a great and distinguished loss to the organization and his place cannot be filled."

"He met his death in line of duty from a German shell in an air raid. Lieutenant Logan who was by his side at the time saw to his proper burial and the location of his grave is officially recorded."

"I am writing this in a dugout as I wanted to send you a personal word. While I know nothing can compensate you for the supreme sacrifice, since it was to be your husband's lot to be the first of us to fall, no higher eulogy can be given any man, than that he was a good soldier, brave and efficient and a typical American and he died for his country and freedom."

The letter was signed by Capt. del Clarke, Company C, 301st Battalion, First American Tank Corps, B. E.

FRENCH TAKE THREE TOWNS.

ENEMY IS USING HIS RESERVES TO STOP FOCH DRIVE

Marks Beginning of Last Phase of Great Battle, Paris Declares.

THREATEN RAILROADS TO NORTH OF CHAMPAGNE

Submarine Bases Along the Belgian Coast Still Are In Peril.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Paris, Oct. 4.—Germany is now throwing in general reserves into the battle on the St. Quentin front. This accounts for the stiffening resistance there and also along the German left flank and marks the beginning of the last phase of the great battle.

Notwithstanding violent counter-attacks by the enemy the allies continue to make gains, which although local, are none the less important as they have accumulative effect on the center of the line.

British armies commanded by General Byng and General Rawlinson continue to press the enemy hard. They have captured Le Catelet, General Debeney, east of St. Quentin, is slowly pushing the Germans back toward the upper Oise valley. General Berthelot is continuing his advance north of Rheims and has now occupied the whole Alsine line from Vauilly to Berry Au Bac.

Principal interest along the front to the east centers about the operations conducted by General Gouraud in the Champagne sector. Reinforced by the Americans, General Gouraud has pushed forward until he is now within six miles of Vouziers junction, a base of great importance and is 25 miles from the great railroads connecting the German army with Germany. He is also solidly established at Chateau Thierry, which assures eventual junction with the Americans on the other side of Argonne forest.

Better still are the results along the northern sector of the front. The German retreat over a 17 mile line in the Ardennes section was accelerated yesterday. With the allies hot upon his trail the enemy gave up Armentieres and Lens, the great coal city, without a blow. He is now well east of these two cities and the mining region of Bethune is completely cleared.

As a further result of the retreat, the enemy is now in peril of losing the Belgian coast. Should the allies succeed in forcing their way through the gap between Ostend and Lille, it would mean disaster for the Germans.

Reports received by the treasury however, it was said, do not indicate the total number of subscriptions received as in many cities no attempt has been made to tabulate the sale of bonds and as in the totals only subscriptions are counted which are accompanied by the ten per cent cash deposit.

WILL KNOW SOON LICKING'S RECORD IN FOURTH LOAN

Reports Will Be Made At Meeting of War Workers Tonight.

NO REPORTS MADE BY TEAMS IN TOWNSHIPS

Report $100,000 Secured From Employees of B. & O. Up To Noon.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Tonight will determine whether Licking county has gone over the top in the fourth Liberty loan campaign.

A meeting of all the workers in the county will be held at the Masonic temple at 8:30 o'clock, and Chairman E. C. Wright will receive the reports from township chairmen and division commanders of city workers.

Chairman Wright stated today that no further definite reports had been received from the townships, but that they were out today working like trojans to reach the quota of $287,850, assigned to them.

No reports have been received from city workers, but since the plan of campaign had been changed regarding the various manufacturing plants of the city, and arrangements made to have each factory conduct its own subscriptions, the outlook is much brighter.

The A. H. Heisey plant was the first to make a favorable report, and the indications are that every plant in the city will subscribe almost 100 per cent.

The Baltimore and Ohio shops are going by leaps and bounds and there is no evening there it is hoped that over 100,000 has been reached at noon and predictions are made that double that amount will be subscribed by evening.

The Wehrle plant is alive with team workers today and promises an excellent report. The employees of the Ohio Electric plant, the Central Power company, and other concerns employing a large number of men, report that they will have 100 per cent.

Team workers were rather discouraged yesterday on account of calling at so many homes only to find that the head of the house was employed at some factory where he would give his subscription. Even in spite of that fact, however, many fine subscriptions were received. Workers are out again this afternoon and are putting forth every effort to finish the territory to which they have been assigned so that they can make a full report this evening. It is hoped that over 100,000 reports are made it will be found that old Licking county has again made good and gone over the top.

CITY HAVING RAPID GROWTH

Norfolk Bids Fair to Break all Records at Her Present Rate of Progress.

There is not a city in this country, perhaps none in the world, that is growing at a more rapid rate than Norfolk," remarked G. W. Sizer, manager of one of the leading hotels of that city, at the Raleigh, the Washington Post states. "The last census gave the population of Norfolk at less than 70,000. Today it is estimated that Norfolk is a city of 140,000, or more than double the size it was in 1910. Washington prides itself on the tremendous growth attained in the last two or three years. I take considerable pride in the growth of Washington, for I lived here many years, but the proportionate increase in the population of the national capital cannot compare with that of Norfolk. Of course, both cities are helped by war business. Washington, I presume, is the busiest city in the world, but Norfolk is almost next."

"Hampton Roads is filled with ships. Battleships are passing in and out every hour, and soldiers and sailors are filling the streets, hotels and residences of Norfolk. Only recently I saw some 2,000 soldiers from New Zealand parading through the streets of Norfolk. Many of them were not young. New Zealand already has sent close to 150,000 men to the front in France, and Belgium, out of a population of 1,500,000, and is still sending men, which should be an object lesson to us."

"Business is booming in Norfolk as never before. The hotels are filled to overflowing just as they are in Washington. New business blocks are going up and the residence sections of the city are being extended far into the outlying districts. I venture to say that in another decade Norfolk will come close to being the leading city in the Old Dominion, both in population and importance."

STRANGE VARIETIES OF FOOD

People of Different Parts of the Earth Are Shown to Have Decidedly Different Tastes.

Strange foods, such as potato flour, artificial protein cakes, green bone-dust preparations, tabloid soups, pudding powders and other unusual things, have come into use during the war and their adoption serves to remind us that much good food material is neglected in ordinary use. Only a few people eat snails; most of us would starve amidst plenty of locusts; and the thought of snakes as food would give those who call themselves civilized the shudders.

But unusual food, once become familiar, is often relished. Colonel Roosevelt got the best work from his men on his African expedition by promising them raw steaks from slaughtered hippopotamuses. Captain Bartlett, who carried Stefansson to the arctic water, found raw polar bear flesh more appetizing than anything he had eaten at home.

Fregmen eat snails and dog steaks cost there more than mutton. Some arctic tribes prefer to have their fish decomposed before eating them, and even then perhaps they smell no worse than Limburger or Brie cheese. South Americans eat lizards and mares' milk is a favorite Russian beverage. Truly, "there is no accounting for tastes."—New York Sun.

Playing the Man.

No matter what part he may be playing in the strenuous game of life as it is presented today, the brotherhood man, above all others, must play the man. These are times when the best that is in us must be given to "carry on," and the race run with steadfastness and a manly purpose. As Robert L. Stevenson so beautifully puts it: "Whether we regard life as a line leading to a dead wall—a mere bag's end, as the French say—or whether we think of it as a vestibule or gymnasium, where we wait our turn and prepare our facilities for some more noble destiny; whether we thunder in a pulpit or pile in little esthetic poetry books about its vanity and brevity, whether we look justly for years of health and vigor, or are about to mount into a bath chair, as a step towards the hearse; in each and all of these views and situations there is but one conclusion possible; that a man should stop his ears against paralyzing terror and run the race that is set before him with a single mind."

"Flying Fish" Torpedo.
Aerial torpedoes—the bane of German submarine crews and first-line trenches—have been called "flying fish," because their tapering cylindrical bodies and huge air-lins suggest the tropic sea creatures. The torpedoes are held upright in the air and given a diving velocity by the air resistance which strikes the fins, spinning them round and round. Contrary to popular impressions, certain forms of air resistance speed up rather than retard falling objects. Not only the aerial torpedoes, but all airplane bombs and darts, are now grooved or finned to whirl in falling. The German Zeppelin bombs are similarly constructed.

Uses of Potatoes in Sweden.
Uses made of Swedish potato crop, officially estimated this year at $4,244,830 bushels, will be interesting to people of the United States. Of the entire crop, 37.1 per cent is used for direct human consumption; 32.7 per cent is fed to animals, and 6.5 per cent is used in flour making. The loss in storage is 11.9 per cent and 11.5 per cent is retained for seed.

camp authorities to battle the disease. The strictest quarantine still prevails at the cantonment, although, aside from rigid precautionary measures and washing of the outside population, Clifton itself has not as yet been quarantined. Only one case has been reported from the City hospital, where more than a hundred cases are being cared for. Health officials pronounced the situation as not grave in the city limits.

DISEASE SPREADS IN OHIO, REPORTS SHOW

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Oct. 4.—Spanish influenza is spreading rapidly through Ohio, according to reports received by the state department of health. Hundreds of cases have been reported and scores of new cases are being reported daily.

These reports show that in almost every instance, the Spanish influenza was brought to the Ohio communities from army and navy camps.

Records of the state department of health show the disease most prevalent at Camp Sherman, where more than 4000 cases and 150 deaths have been reported. One hundred and fifty cases and two deaths have been reported from Muskingum college at New Concord. Physicians believe the disease was carried there by an army officer from Fort Sherman, Ill., who was sent to Muskingum college to organize a branch of the students' army training corps.

Washington Courthouse and Xenia also have reported large numbers of cases to the state department. Unofficial reports show that all classes have been closed at Miami university at Oxford. The university hospital is said to be filled with students suffering with the disease and a part of the men's dormitory has been taken over for hospital uses.

Considerable influenza also has been reported unofficially from Cambridge and Wilmington.

In several instances the state department of health reports, the disease has been carried to Ohio by infected men from the Great Lakes naval training station near Chicago, where the disease has been unusually prevalent.

PUT "FLU" PATIENTS IN "Y" BUILDINGS

(Associated Press Telegram)

Dayton, Oct. 4.—With 250 cases of Spanish influenza at the Wilbur Wright aviation field, near this city, all hospitals overtaxed and some barracks, the Knights of Columbus and Y. M. C. A. have converted into temporary institutions for nursing, a hurry up call was sent out by the local Red Cross today. An urgent need for hospital equipment was emphasized and scores of women responded to the call and reported at the Red Cross headquarters for service. The number of new cases developing today was smaller than any previous day. Major Farmer, in charge of the field hospital, declared today the situation is much improved.

CLOSE ALL PUBLIC PLACES IN PENNA.

Harrisburg, Oct. 4.—Dr. B. F. Royer, State Commissioner of Health, last night handed down an order closing every place of public amusement and every school in Pennsylvania because of the influenza epidemic. The order to take effect today.

BAN ON MEETINGS WILL STOP "FLU"

Washington, Oct. 4.—The only way to stop the spread of Spanish influenza is to close schools, theatres and public institutions in every community where the epidemic has developed in the opinion of Surgeon General Blue of the public health service.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I suffered seven long years with a lame back, irregularity and pain. I had one physician after another but they did me no good. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and gave it a trial and in a short time I felt benefited and am now feeling fine, and without weakness or pain. Many of my friends have also taken Lydia E. ITALIANS RAZE AUSTRIAN BASE

American, British and Italian Warships Destroy Durazzo Naval Station Wednesday.

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches) American, British and Italian warships have destroyed the Austrian base at Durazzo, Albania. This sensational exploit, which was carried out on Wednesday, seems to have re-duced the Austrians to one large naval center in the Adriatic, that of Pola, although the port of Fiume may be used for this purpose.

The attack, coming at a time when the Austrians in southern Albania are in dire straits after losing their support lines eastward through Macedonia, appears to be significant. Italian troops launched an offensive there on Tuesday. It suggests that perhaps military operations may be along the northern Albanian coast in the rear of the retreating Austrians and the situation holds large possibilities. Durazzo is within 100 miles of Brindisi, the Italian naval base and is within easy striking distance of Corfu from which are directed the operations of the allied fleets in the Mediterranean.

The Austrians, which have been holding the front along the sector from Lens to Armentieres are in retreat and with the British in close pursuit, are hurriedly abandoning the region south of Lens. The British, where they are in danger of envelopment, retreat seems to have uncovered the important city of Lille and will probably make imperative a withdrawal all the way down the line in front of Arras.

North of the wedge driven into the German lines by the Anglo-British drive there are no indications of a retreat as yet, although military critics believe that the Germans held on Ostend will be short lived, now that Toulon is virtually in the hands of the allies.

Smashing against the German line east of St. Quentin, Field Marshal Haig's army plunged through the last line of the formidable Hindenburg system yesterday. This assault seems to have been a blow struck at a vital spot in the enemy's defense and its success is attested by the progress made during the day. Terrific efforts made by the Germans to halt the progress of the British were fruitless and it is reported that British cavalry and tanks reached the enemy country back of the enemy's front.

Further successes at this point would seem to shake the whole German line from Douai to Rheims. The enemy, so far as is known, has no other positions in that region as formidable as those captured during the past week by the allies. Directly behind this front are railroads which are vital to the enemy forces fighting further to the south.

Near Rheims, General Berthelot's army has made no progress and the time seems not far distant when the central city will be freed from German artillery fire for the first time since 1914. This advance by the French has a very close relation to that of the British around St. Quentin as well as the capture of Charlemagne in Champagne. There are some military experts who believe that this drive is of greater strategic value than any other now going on in France.

General Gouraud's army in Champagne has at last cleared the western gate of Grand Pre gap, which runs north of the Argonne forest. Challenge has been taken and the Germans west of that village have been forced to give up ground.

East of the Argonne forest the American forces facing the Kriemhild-Steeling line appear to be held up by the operations of the enemy. This may be only temporarily, however, as the nature of the country has made it difficult to move up heavy artillery for the resumption of the drive against the enemy.

KNOW VICTORY SURE BUT LIFE UNCERTAIN

Newark Boy In Training Camp Anxious To Get Into Action With His Battery.

Corporal H. W. Allison who is with the 158th P. A. brigade, in the headquarters has written his parents Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Allison of 15 North Sixteenth street.

The boy on September 7, was stationed at Camp Coetiquand and the letter was written from there. He states he had been in school for about two months and that he had been busy.

He was going to visit the city of Rheims on September 8.

In his letter he says: "A few days more of quiet and then is when the excitement begins. We have received nothing but good news from the active sector and we are all anxious to get busy, and either win or die in the attempt. Of course we know we will win but nobody knows whether he is living through it or not. I sure feel as though I would."

"You must not worry about me when I do not write often, because if I get injured you will know it as soon as it is practical. Do not put U. S. A. P. O. 711 on any more of my letters as my post office will be changed."

The private in the ranks realizes that he must begin at the bottom if he would go over the top.

No, Marie dear, just because your best young man is a shipping clerk doesn't entitle him to a naval uniform.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! Is tongue coated, breath feverish and stomach sour?

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs." then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation, poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels and you have a well, playful child again. Although "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrup. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Adv.

SOUND SLEEP IS A GREAT RELIEF

Piqua Woman Says Tanlac Quits Nerves and Induces Peaceful Sleep.

Sound sleep is conceded by all authorities to be the greatest tonic for weak, worn-out bodies. But how about the person whose nerves are so raw and "edgy" that they cannot obtain from seven to eight hours of restful sleep per night?

Mrs. Susan Lane, 700 Wayne street, Piqua, was in a shattered state of health, largely due because she could not sleep soundly. She took Tanlac and it brought desired relief. She says:

"I could not sleep soundly. I was restless all night and when I got up in the mornings I was even more tired, if such a thing is possible, than when I went to bed at night."

"I became run-down, my appetite left me. I had no desire to eat, and nothing tasted good to me."

"Tanlac helped. It gave me a good appetite right from the start. It soothed and quieted my nerves and when I went to bed I didn't have the least trouble going to sleep. Consequently I soon grew stronger."

"During my life I have taken much medicine and I can truthfully and conscientiously say that Tanlac aided me more than anything I ever used."

Tanlac may be obtained in Newark at Evans' Arcade Drug store. Tanlac may also be procured at the Evans Pharmacy (Warden Hotel block, east side of square, Newark), and the Hebron Drug store, Hebron, O.—(Adv.).

THE MARKETS

Wall Street.
(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Oct. 4.—Further moderate selling of war shares including equipments, contributed the irregular trend in the first half hour of today's stock market. United States Steel and Crucible Steel reacted most actively with specialties, such as gunnery tobacco and Texas company, St. Paul also yielding to the same extent. These reactions were balanced by renewed strength in shipping, Mexican Petroleum and United States Steel. The latter being represented by Brooklyn Transit, Philadelphia company, Peoples Gas and Ohio Gas.

Regarding the persistent heaviness of the more vulnerable war stocks and the backward of rail, the market broadened and strengthened substantially during the forenoon. Shipings, copers, motors, and utilities continued to lead, and their accessories also gained. Special feature of the day was the sale of United States Steel, which included gas shares and local reactions, marine preferred and Atlantic Gulf, Royal Dutch and Texas company, Standard Oil, U. S. Rubber, General Electric, American Sugar, American Smelting and Refining, and United States Steel. U. S. Steel also more than retrieved its early loss.

RANDOLPH TRAINS FOR "Y" WORK IN WAR ZONE

A letter received from E. S. Randolph, now in New York City, taking intensive training for overseas work, says that he was ordered to report Wednesday at Columbia university, where he was to stay day and night till 9 o'clock Saturday night. He will then be excused till 8 o'clock Monday morning, for more intensive training.

Mr. Randolph expressed himself as greatly pleased at the fine turnout of his friends to see him off for his new work. He did not consider it personal, but rather an expression of interest in the war and the cause in which he was going.

Don't Be an Extremist.
It was remarked by Macaulay that when feeling runs high and parties align on any question, moral, religious, political or economic, the best men on both sides are to be found nearest to the dividing frontier. The extremists of all the factions always injure and often bring discredit on the cause which they espouse. Few things are better established than this, and recurring evidence thereof is found in the history of every nation. It is a principle of nature; and as the temperate zone separates climes which burn or freeze, so wisdom holds the debatable middle ground between the bitter and violent extreme, and virtue is only a just temper between propensities which are vices when indulged in to excess. Even Deific perfection, as Halifax argued in defending the tolerant via media he always sought to follow, is only the equilibrium of attributes no one of which could preponderate without disturbing the moral and physical order of the world.

The Ingrate.
"He came to us a clean-limbed, husky, raw hawk. A gentle, quaint, sweet little maid smiled and tolerated his attentions, which soon became serious. She encouraged him to 'high aspirations,' thinking to broaden, polish and make more useful this lover of hers. Now he is graduated from the big college. Forgotten are the sweet little girl who loved him in his old age. He has a highly powdered sweetheart from the city, wears a derby on the back of his empty head, trails a big five-cent cigar down the street, and will gravitate to Kansas City, there to hold a hiring job for some corporation. Corporations prefer ingrates."—Liauwtha (Kann.) World.

Obstacles in Every Path.
Most of us who work for a living have to contend with a full measure of the day's cares and setbacks. We have this obligation to meet, that difficulty to master, and so on. Yet in fairness to ourselves and in justice to the persons with whom we touch elbows during business hours, we should, the minute we come into their midst, put all "our own business" into the background.

LIEUT. JONES TO GET PROMOTION

Writes Mother That He Has Been Recommended By His Commanding Officer.

While French and British troops are praising the courage of the American soldiers, frequent incidents arise to show the foolhardiness of some of the impetuous youngsters from America who have entered the fray "over there."
Lieutenant Richard A. Jones, Company
H, 60th infantry, now in France, tells,
in a letter to his mother, Mrs. E. L.
Jones, O'Hannon avenue, of a "mule
skinner" who defied the danger of Hun machine guns and deliberately drove over a road running through "No man's land" in broad daylight and in plain sight of the enemy trenches.

LIEUT. RICHARD A. JONES

Strange as it may seem, he "got away with it," not a shot being fired at him by the Fritzies. Only the night before another mule skinner, hauling a field kitchen "came in" over the same road and was headed for the enemy line in ignorance of his danger when he was stopped. He turned and headed for the American line when a Hun machine gun opened up and riddled the rear of the rolling kitchen. The driver fled in a panic but the mule team unconscious of anything unusual, continued on their way until a dip in the road carried them out of the line of fire.

In his letter Lieutenant Jones apologizes for his neglect to write but pleads that he has been busy since his company moved "up front." About that time the captain of his company was promoted and transferred and Jones was in command. "For some time until another captain was assigned to the company." He declares its no cinch for a lieutenant to command 250 men in the face of the enemy. Continuing, his letter says:

"The day we started to move from the trenches, the adjutant of my battalion was ordered to school and I was detached to this job. It is bad enough at any time but on the move it is awful, and I was not acquainted with the work either. If you don't know what an adjutant is I might explain that he is a sort of an aide to a major. He sees to all the "paper work" of the battalion as well as a number of other things.

"We are now in rest camp and believe me it feels good to be able to get into a real bed and take your clothes off. I didn't have anything off all the time I was in the trenches except my shoes. We all went through the "de-lousing" machine yesterday. The clothing was steamed and everybody took a bath. We were troubled very much with fleas. My legs are a mass of flea bites.

"We were in a rather quiet sector
compared with some of the other sectors right now. An interesting incident occurred while we were in the trenches. A "mule skinner" got lost on the road to the trenches with my company kitchen but he didn't know it so he drove right up through a road that runs out into "no man's land,"
and back again into our position. Well those kitchens are made of sheet iron and when in motion, they sound like a wagon load of loose tin. I can't imagine what the boches thought was coming. I suspect they thought it was a tank but they didn't fire on it until he made the turn and started for our trenches. Then they opened up with a machine gun from the rear. It frightened the driver so badly he jumped from the seat and started to run.
The four mules never knew the difference but just plugged away until the road led them from over a bank and out of the range of fire. The bullets just riddled the rear of the kitchen.
If it had been daytime he wouldn't have known what hit him.

"But the best happened the next day in broad daylight. Another driver of an escort wagon drove up the same road and never had a shot fired at him.
Everyone in our trench held his breath.
When he drove down under the hill
where the kitchen was, the mess sergeant said: "My God man, you drove right through 'no man's land.'" was the driver's reply and after they had unloaded
the rations from the wagon the sergeant said "you can't go back that way."

"Just watch me and see," the mule
skinner replied and he swung his mules around and rove right over the road, sitting on top of his wagon, rolling a cigar. And there wasn't a shot fired at him. It is a mystery to me why they didn't kill him for the boches had been picking at us every time we stuck
our snouts out.

"I suppose you are getting lots of news of the big push that is now going on. Believe me those boches are sure getting one grand surprise and some of these days you will see them break with a smash."

"The news I have is that my battalion commander recommended me for promotion several weeks ago and I expect to get my new commission anytime now.

"I wish you could see the little village where we are now stationed. My room is on the ground floor and opens onto the street or onto the court. In the middle of the court is a big watering trough and good cold water spouts right out of a stone pillar. There are three beer gardens just across the court and the church is on the right and there are four little shops on the other two sides.

"I must quit now and get my court ready for tomorrow. I was appointed summary court officer, to top it all off. If you don't know what a summary court officer is, just imagine one man being judge, jury, court clerk, prosecuting attorney, attorney for the defense and janitor for the court room.
I have nine cases for tomorrow."

"For six years we have used Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in our family and feel we could not possibly do without it, especially for the children." (From a letter to Dr.
Caldwell written by Mrs. Earl Cowell, Cement City, Mich.)

Children become constipated as readily as do their elders, and the result is equally distressing. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is ideal for children because of its pleasant taste, positive, yet gentle, action, and its freedom from opiates and narcotic drugs.

BUILD OUR TOWN—BUY IN NEWARK

TO OUR PATRONS

We assume that every gas consumer in this community understands that the Ordinance under which our company is now operating and which regulates the rate which we are now permitted to charge, was fixed by your public officials and ourselves to fit conditions existing before the war, when everybody's buying prices, including our own, were from 50% to 400% less than at present.

It is therefore apparent that a rate which was sufficient THEN is entirely insufficient NOW, and that some form of relief must be found.

You have doubtless noticed the appeals which have been made by the government, for an increased rate, in behalf of public utilities generally, on account of the unprecedented conditions with which these companies are confronted. This matter was brought to the attention of the President of the United States, and after full consideration thereof, he made an appeal for increased rates to these companies, addressed to the public, on February 19, 1918, in which he says:

"I hope that state and local authorities, where they have not already done so, will, when the facts are properly laid before them, respond promptly to the necessities of the situation."

Similar appeals have been made by Secretary McAdoo and other high officials and committees representing the United States Government, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and various Public Utilities Commissions.

Unfortunately, conditions are growing much worse instead of better, an era of high costs extending through several years seems inevitable, and the present rate has become entirely inadequate to off-set the tremendous increases in all the elements entering into our investment and operating costs, and with the probability of further advances which may eventually over-reach present increases in rate. We are also greatly hampered in procuring capital because of the Government's financial requirements monopolizing to a large extent the investment funds of the Nation.

Natural gas companies are more seriously affected than other utilities, for even though this world war, with its high costs had not occurred, the general depletion of our gas fields, which compels greatly increased drilling and development, necessitates expenditures that alone would require increases in rate.

Furthermore, other utilities can curtail development work to some extent during prolonged periods of high prices, but the natural gas industry is forced, because of last winter's shortages and next winter's needs, to drill more wells this year than in any previous year, and at greater distances from the old centers of production and consumption, and each well and every other enlargement of its facilities costs at least twice as much as it did before the war. Other business and industries facing similarly increased costs have procured relief by advancing their selling prices, while we have been forced to continue selling natural gas at the same old rate.

Our management has realized for some time that the present gas rate could not be permanently continued, but nevertheless the service has been maintained to date in the hope that conditions would change. Such an outcome, however, is plainly impossible, and we are now obliged to appeal to the spirit of fairness of this community, to ask that you will grant us relief by increased rates. In fact, without your prompt assistance it will be quite impossible to go forward with much additional and very necessary development work by which we hope to improve our supply of gas.

Despite extensive drilling this year a shortage still exists and further development operations must be continued throughout the Fall and Winter. The present rate is insufficient to provide funds to meet this emergency, and such operations can go forward only in proportion to the willingness of our patrons to increase rates.

A half dozen cities supplied by our company resumed the use of artificial gas last winter, at our suggestion, without, however, relieving the shortage, and other cities have been similarly notified, and whether or not this process of elimination must be still further pursued, depends upon the results of further extensive drilling.

We are endeavoring to be as reasonable as conditions will permit, realizing in this time of stress that the burden of increased rates should be equitably proportioned between our company and its patrons, and that each should make some sacrifice for the general good. The increase of 8c. per thousand cubic feet which we are now asking represents but 22% advance in the price of gas, whereas the price of well pipe has advanced 200%, line pipe 250%, boilers 175%, engines 160%, cordage 180%, valves 175%, fittings 125%, drilling rigs and machines 100%, drilling tools 75%, and labor and other items proportionately. In fact, the thirty-seven articles that are most used in the development and maintenance of our industry and which we must now purchase in great quantities have increased in price an average of 101%.

We trust it will be conceded by everyone that because of the conditions heretofore mentioned, and other uncertainties, none of which can be anticipated at this time, that we are not in position to continue to operate under the present ordinance, which fixes a rate for a definite future period, because no one can estimate the expenditures which must be made now or in the future to procure and distribute additional supplies of natural gas (if this can be accomplished), nor determine a proper rate which the public should pay. The only logical method is to establish a reasonable rate by schedule consistent with circumstances as they exist at the present time. This method has already been adopted in a large number of municipalities in Ohio and other States as the only feasible method of meeting the situation; in fact, thirty-nine of the seventy-one communities served by this company have readily accepted this plan and granted this increase as an evidence of their willingness to co-operate with and aid the gas company in its efforts to secure, if possible, an additional supply for their use. Our company must pay the price and go ahead vigorously pushing the drill, searching for more gas, constructing pipe lines and building up its supply and service, if possible. It cannot stand by and see its supply depleted and its service deteriorate without making every effort to maintain it, and you would not want us to do otherwise, even though the procurement of gas is dependent upon chance, and all drilling results are uncertain. And the only way to increase our revenue and obtain the money necessary to do this drilling, piping and construction is found in your willingness to pay an increased price for gas.

Therefore, we do suggest in place of the present ordinance, a schedule rate of 38c, less 3c, per thousand cubic feet, with a minimum charge per month equal to the cost of 2,000 cubic feet of gas, until such time as experience thereunder shows that the rate should be changed.

At this slight increase natural gas is still cheaper than coal or other fuel; and the minimum charge applies only to those few consumers who use less than 2,000 cubic feet per month—usually those who burn gas only in case the electric lights go out. Few people using gas for cooking or lighting pay any part of the minimum charge.

In view of the foregoing statement of conditions just as they exist, we trust that you will willingly assent to our proposal that your municipal Council release us from the requirements of the existing ordinance, and that we be permitted to file a schedule with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, naming a rate of 38c, less 3c, with a minimum charge of 2,000 cubic feet per month, this being uniformly the rate which we are now asking in all towns supplied by our company, thus placing all consumers in like relationship.

The additional revenue thus procured will make it possible to go forward in the effort to secure, insofar as we can, an additional supply of natural gas for your use. We assure you that no part of the funds derived from this increase is intended or will be used to pay additional dividends to stockholders. In fact, the dividends of this company have not been increased to the slightest extent in ten years operation, while its investment has almost doubled during that period.

We trust this fair and equitable proposal meets with your approval, but if any feature is not fully understood or further information is desired, we ask you to call upon our local Agent, who will be pleased to explain in greater detail than is possible in this communication. Yours very truly,

The Newark Natural Gas & Fuel Company

DOCTORS ADVISE SPRING TONICS

Say There Is Nothing Equals Iron and Phosphates.

Experienced doctors claim that everyone should take a good tonic in the spring, that during the cold winter months we all eat too much meat, fats, heavy foods and too little fresh vegetables, that the entire system is clogged up, over loaded and over worked, causing thin, impure watery blood and that tired, nervous feeling, pimples and bad complexion.

Honest doctors all over the land have found and are recommending and prescribing phosphates and iron as their spring tonic for the blood and nerves, they say it removes all impurities, unclogs the channels and sends the rich, red life-giving blood through the veins, renewing health, strength and nerve force as nothing else will.

If you are all in, run down, fagged out and your nerves all shot to pieces and the joy gone from life, take Phosphated Iron, the red blood and nerve builder. It will make a new man or woman of you, make you feel like doing things again, renews that youthful feeling, you can almost feel yourself coming back. Try Phosphated Iron today, it has helped thousands and will not disappoint you.

WHY THE "Y"

By DANIEL HENDERSON

WHAT do you build when you build a "Y"?
A home-roof under a foreign sky!
A little house by the side of the road
Where a brother eases his pressing load!
Where still the Good Samaritan
May come and be a friend to man!
Where a lonesome lad, in a woman's eyes,
Can see his mother's face arise!
Where a chap can write what he longs to say
To a true blue girl in the U. S. A. I
Where there are a hundred brands of joy
To welcome and cheer a homesick boy!

Where caste is banished, and sect is gone,
But the Ten Commandments thunder on!
Where Youth gains manhood to deny
The ceaseless lure of the Lorelei.
Where America spans the seas to dwell
With her knightly men on the rim of hell!

A hut that father's love has founded!
A place that mother's love has founded!
A spot by sweetheart's love surrounded!
A taste of home for hearts that sigh—
It is this you build when you build a "Y."

Semi steel shells, to be used by American forces in Europe, soon will be manufactured at the Wehrle company's plant according to announce-

Experiments have been made at the plant on this type of shell for the past month and the product resulting has been entirely satisfactory. A quantity of steel to be used in the work has been received and within a short time,
a day and night force will be put to work on the contract. Special machinery was installed to handle the contract. The shells are of 75 millimeter caliber.

The company also has a rush order
for 1000 army ranges which are now being manufactured.

A large order for cooking kettles to be used in the rolling kitchens, having a capacity for food enough for 50 men
also has been received.

To handle this order it was necessary to install a 120 lb. steam pressure and a tinning plant. This machinery is in position and work will soon be started on the contract. It will require a night and a day shift to complete the job within the time specified in the contract.

Another article being manufactured at the Wehrle plant is a quantity of large gates to be used in the rolling kitchen.

large numbers are said to have poured through the breach in the Hindenburg system about motor buses. Many of these vehicles are double deckers which used to run on the streets of London.
They are able to follow cavalry closely.

The Germans have fought desperately along this front during the past day realizing that a British victory would undoubtedly have disastrous results for back of the Hindenburg line cavalry and other troops would find it easy to advance in any direction.

FIND EMPLACEMENTS FOR AUSTRIAN GUNS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
With the American Army Northwest
of Verdun, Oct. 3.—(Thursday)—Two concrete emplacements for big guns were discovered west of Varennes when New York troops advanced along the western edge of the Argonne forest a few days ago. The guns had been removed but engineers believe that they were Austrian 305's.

The emplacements were one hundred yards apart and apparently were built more than a year ago. A railroad had been built leading up to them and this enabled the enemy to remove the guns ammunition and everything of value.

French and American heavy artillery battered the enemy positions throughout the entire region along this front and it is believed that the Germans made haste in removing the big guns as soon as they saw that a serious attack was impending.

The guns were scattered through the Argonne forest and from day to day have been taken by the advancing New York soldiers. Among them were two 105's and several 77's. The forest has been thoroughly searched for these guns
by the American troops.

Many of the roads leading from the Argonne forest to Montfaucou and to Malancourt have been found to be barred by concrete pillars as a precaution against the operation of the allied tanks. At safe distances behind these pillars anti-tank gun positions have been found. These in many places were built of concrete. The pillars have all the appearance of having been built recently in many places the wood frames for holding the concrete in place

HUN TREACHERY COSTS NEW YORKERS DEARLY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
With the American Army Northwest
of Verdun, Thursday, Oct. 3.—When New York troops captured the village of Abri St. Louis on Friday they were made victims of an act of German treachery, which has been investigated by army authorities. As the New Yorkers swept into the village a number of Germans came out of their hiding places with uplifted hands and were supposed to have surrendered.
Then the Americans came nearer the Germans suddenly dropped their hands and, seizing hand grenades, threw them with deadly effect, killing and wounding a number of the New York boys.

The survivors retreated and told the story. Then more New York troops went forward. They were armed with flame throwers and gas projectors and filled the village with flame and gas
until not a single German escaped.

This Grateful Man Gives the Credit to Nerve-Worth.

An important message to ailing folks. It was given not long ago to a Nerv-Worth druggist:

"I have been sick for over two months. Had stomach trouble. Coughed nearly all night. Very nervous. Couldn't sleep. No appetite. I didn't feel like eating my breakfast. I worked about half the time. I have taken one bottle of Nerv-Worth. Things are different. I'm beginning to feel more like myself again. Cough is better. Appetite coming back. I feel like going to work in the morning. I feel Nerv-Worth has found my trouble and I recommend the medicine."
